The Fourth Annual Gator Bowl Collegiate Golf

Tournament will be held Dec. 6, 7 and 8, 1987, at the Amelia Island Plantation.

Considered by many as the premier small college tournament in the nation, this year's field will include 20 colleges from Texas to North Carolina including Florida Community College at Jacksonville and the University of North Florida.

The 54-hole tournament will be competed for each of the three days with the Awards Ceremony to immediately follow the Tuesday round. Spectators are encouraged to follow their favorite schools' players. Admission is free to the grounds.

The tournament is hosted by colleges in the Jacksonville area in conjunction with the Wilson Sporting Goods Company under the umbrella of the Gator Bowl Association.

First Street Jazz is a Jacksonville-based five-piece contemporary jazz band. They play a wide variety of tunes from the '50s thru today's heavily rock influenced jazz. The group is comprised of an electric base, electric guitar, drums keyboard, vibes and percussion. They participated in the 1986 Jacksonville Jazz Festival and have been invited to make a return appearance. Their FCCJ appearances will be as follows:

November 4 12 noon South Campus U-152

November 17 11 a.m.

Kent Campus Main Auditorium F-128

November 18 12 noon

Downtown Campus Large Auditorium

Dr. Tom & Seus go together like peanut butter and jelly, tickling and laughter, comedy and tragedy.

The pantomime troubadours' entertaining and thought-provoking show is one that will make you laugh one minute and cry the next. Live music and occasional patter to the audience link short mime sketches and improvisational mime born from audience feedback.

Dr. Tom and Seus will be performing as follows:

November 9

North Campus Auditorium 10 a.m. 12:00 noon Kent Campus Auditorium

November 10

South Campus Cafeteria 10 a.m. Downtown Campus Auditorium 12:15 p.m.

This year's Christmas Dance is scheduled for Thursday, Dec. 17 at the Jacksonville Hotel (formerly the Hilton). The evening promises to be an entertainment bonanza. Not only will there be a top notch band for your dancing pleasure but also a special added attraction. Participants will board a riverboat for a starlight cruise of the St. John's River. Make your plans now to attend the Christmas Dance. Tickets will be on sale in your Student Activities Office.
